(1) Mexico provided an additional USD 1.25 million to implement the project entitled "International Technical Assistance for the Investigation into the Forced Disappearance of 43 Students in Ayotzinapa, Guerrero." This project was administered independently by the Interdisciplinary Group of Independent Experts (GIEI) and is thus not included in this report.

(2) Mexico provided an additional USD 1.25 million to implement the project entitled "International Technical Assistance for the Investigation into the Forced Disappearance of 43 Students in Ayotzinapa, Guerrero." This project was administered independently by the Interdisciplinary Group of Independent Experts (GIEI) and is thus not included in this report.

(3) The United States made an additional pledge of USD 2 million in 2016. The authorization to access these funds was granted in 2017 and so is included in the 2017 report rather than the 2016 report.

(4) This contribution corresponds to Ecuador's support for the Special Follow-Up Team (ESE) for PM3O9-18, granted in favor of Efraín Segarra Abril and others.

(5) The objective of a share of Mexico's contribution—USD 220,000 in 2017 and USD 550,000 in 2018—was to support the implementation of the Special Mechanism for Follow-up on the Ayotzinapa Affair (PM 409-14).

(6) In 2018, the IACHR signed a technical assistance agreement with the United States for 2018–2020 worth USD 4.4 million. Although the IACHR has been spending these resources since the project began in 2018, this agreement was implemented as a reimbursement program (rather like a credit card). The income from contributions to cover activities that were implemented in 2018 will be reflected in 2019.

(7) The contributions from the European Commission (USD 753,000), Germany, Italy, Luxembourg, SOS Children's Villages, and Freedom House were to support the implementation of the GIEI and MESENI in Nicaragua.

(8) The following donors also contributed to MESENI in Nicaragua: Argentina (USD 4,000), Chile (USD 15,000), Peru (USD 15,000), Spain (USD 81,000), and Switzerland (USD 352,000). The objective of a share of Switzerland's contribution—USD 160,000—was to support the implementation of the GIEI in Nicaragua.
